OTHER DISCLOSURES

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. The PSEi had a volatile first quarter, gaining 9% during the first two months then declining by 10% in March. At the start of the year, foreign buying pushed the index higher as investors rotated to Emerging Markets, especially those that lagged last year including the Philippines. The local bourse even reached an intra-year high of 6,600 before sentiment turned sour after US-Iran geopolitical tension escalated and resulted to risk off sentiment by end-February. Inflation concerns quickly surged as oil prices went up above $100/bbl following the shutdown of the Strait of Hormuz which significantly reduced the supply of oil. March inflation printed at 4.1%, higher than market expectation of 3.9% and above the 2-4% range of the BSP due to spike in fuel prices. Other macro indicators were not encouraging as well, with 4Q25 GDP printing at 3.0%, the lowest in recent years, and the local currency breaching PHP60:$1. Full-year 2025 earnings, which were largely in line with expectations, took a backseat as investors focused on the developments in the Middle East. Even if the conflict were to end soon, it would take considerable time to rebuild the energy infrastructure that was already destroyed. In the near term, the PSEi is expected to trade between 5,800 to 6,200.

INVESTMENT POLICY / PROSPECTIVE INVESTMENTS

The Fund may invest in deposits in other banks, securities issued or guaranteed by the Philippine Government or the BSP, tradable securities issued by any supranational entity, equity and equity-linked constituents of the PSE and Such other tradeable investment outlets as may be allowed by the BSP.
