OTHER DISCLOSURES

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review.

Global fixed income markets weakened in the first quarter of 2026, with the Bloomberg Global Aggregate (Unhedged) Index declining by -1.07%. Bond market performance was volatile across the quarter, as early gains in January and February were reversed by a sharp sell-off in March. The yield on the 10-year U.S. Treasury bond rose from 4.17% at year-end 2025 to 4.32% by March 31, after falling to a quarterly low of 3.94% in late February and peaking at 4.43% toward the end of March.

On the macroeconomic front, declining sovereign yields in February reflected moderating growth expectations and renewed demand for safe-haven assets. However, sentiment shifted materially in March as persistent inflation risks, hawkish central bank rhetoric, and heightened geopolitical developments in the Middle East pressured fixed income markets. These factors drove sovereign yields higher across major developed markets, reversing earlier price gains and weighing on global bond returns. In the U.S., resilient economic data further reduced expectations for near-term monetary easing.

Despite earlier signs of cooling inflation, policymakers maintained a cautious stance amid ongoing inflation uncertainty. Market participants reassessed the timing and scale of potential U.S. Federal Reserve rate cuts as higher energy prices and geopolitical risks added to upside inflation concerns. As a result, bond markets faced renewed volatility, particularly at the long end of the yield curve, while income levels improved at higher yield levels.

In light of these developments, the Fund tactically reduced its duration positioning to a slight underweight relative to its benchmark to manage interest rate risk amid heightened volatility. The Fund remains diversified across broad global bond markets, balancing income generation with capital preservation in an environment characterized by shifting monetary policy expectations and elevated geopolitical uncertainty.

INVESTMENT POLICY / PROSPECTIVE INVESTMENTS

The Fund may invest in deposits in other banks, securities issued or guaranteed by the Philippine Government or the BSP, tradable securities issued by any supranational entity, exchange-listed fixed income securities and funds or similar instruments. Subject to BSP guidelines and the Trustee's Trust Committee approval, the Fund may also avail of financial derivative instruments solely for the purpose of hedging risk exposures, as well as invest in other tradable investment outlets/categories as may be deemed suitable for the Fund.

CUSTOMIZED BENCHMARKS

The Bloomberg Global Aggregate Total Return Index Value Unhedged USD is the flagship measure of global investment grade debt from 28 local currency markets. This benchmark includes treasury, government-related, corporate, and securitized fixed-rate bonds from both developed and emerging markets issuers.

Philippine Dollar Deposit Rates Time Deposit Up to 1 Month is a daily interest rate indicator sourced from data from the BSP and seen on Bloomberg. This benchmark is a weekly key interest rate published by the BSP. Starting 1 January 2020, universal and commercial banks are required to submit the amended reporting templates on banks' lending and deposit rates or Interest Rates on Loans and Deposits (IRLD) in accordance with Circular Nos. 1029 and 1037, series of 2019. Data is subject to a one-week lag. The data is accrued daily to serve as the fund's benchmark on a net of tax basis (less 15% withholding tax).

The fund's computation of the net-of-tax figure of PPSD30 Index, and the combination of 90% LEGATRUU Index and 10% PPSD30 Index, is considered by the BSP as a customized benchmark that is managed by SLIMTC.

There is no periodic rebalancing of the customized benchmark, as it is a composite result of the two market-standard indices as noted. Any changes in the weights of the benchmark will be disclosed to the client and the BSP.
